Reinventing with Nature

What is this object used for? (it’s function)

What does this object need to do well in order to fulfill its function(s)?

What part(s) of this object help it fulfill its function(s)?

What examples in nature can you think of that have similar needs or functions?

Can you apply some ideas from nature to make the design of this object better?

Image: Hans Braxmeier / Pixabay
What is this object used for? (it’s function)

What does this object need to do well in order to fulfill its function(s)?

What part(s) of this object help it fulfill its function(s)?

What examples in nature can you think of that have similar needs or functions?

Can you apply some ideas from nature to make the design of this object better?
Reinventing with Nature

What is this object used for? (it’s function)

What does this object need to do well in order to fulfill its function(s)?

What part(s) of this object help it fulfill its function(s)?

What examples in nature can you think of that have similar needs or functions?

Can you apply some ideas from nature to make the design of this object better?

Image: Michael Kumm, CC-BY / Flickr
What is this object used for? (it’s function)

What does this object need to do well in order to fulfill its function(s)?

What part(s) of this object help it fulfill its function(s)?

What examples in nature can you think of that have similar needs or functions?

Can you apply some ideas from nature to make the design of this object better?